

Faculties & Departments

Faculty of Engineering

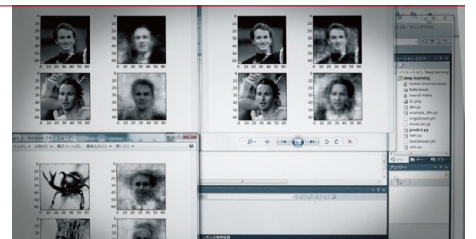

Department of Mechanical Engineering

Fosters and develops manufacturing specialists to help improve the quality of life.

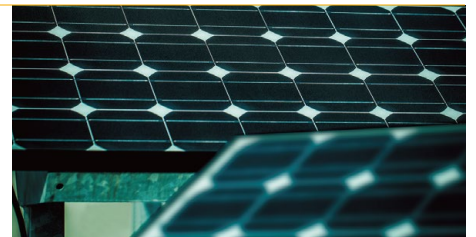

Department of Information and Computer Science

Fosters and develops IT professionals for a future in an information oriented society.

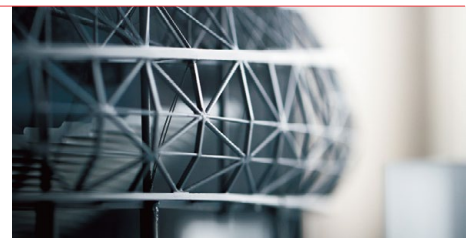

Department of Electrical and Electronic Engineering

Fosters and develops engineers to promote new sources of energy , and design of cutting-edge electronic equipment.

Department of Architecture

Fosters and develops architectural designers and engineers with expertise specific to northern regions.

Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering

Fosters and develops civil engineers and environmental designers to balance harmony between nature and urban life.

